Keeping and Telling the Dominican Story: Our Gift for the 21st Century

Dominican Archivists and Historians' Conference

July 8 - 11, 2010

We are grateful to Anna Donnelly, member of the Fraternities of St. Dominic, St. Joseph Province and to the Dominican Sisters of Sinsinawa for their generous financial contributions that made the ninth In Our Keeping Conference: Keeping and Telling the Dominican Story – Our Gift for the 21st Century (July 8-11th) possible and a stellar success!

Participants traveled from the states of Washington, California, Missouri, Louisiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania and New York as well as from the countries of Argentina and Norway. They represented sisters from 11 congregations, friars from the Eastern and Central province, members of the laity from those Provinces as well as associates from 3 congregations. All enjoyed thought provoking keynote addresses, insightful presentations and panels, inspiring communal prayer as well as good meals and fun! One participant noted that it was hard to identify just one feature of IOK she appreciated the most. She wrote: “It is difficult to select the most appreciated event for the entire experience was wonderful. The joyfulness of the staff and knowledge of the presenters, warmth of the entire atmosphere created a grand package. Another participant believed that the best part of the conference was “Being together with other Dominicans who are dedicated to preserving and telling our Dominican Story.” Read more!
